TREMRON
COLOR-THROUGH

FACE
COLOR

Color-Through Process

Color your world with the rich hues of Tremron pavers! When you choose products from Tremron, you can be sure that the color of your hardscape designs will stay true, stay vibrant and stay natural. That's because Tremron uses a special "color-through" process when manufacturing our stones; we blend the color into the stone, rather than simply adding it to the face of the paver, as is the case in most common color veneers.

When your pavers arrive for your project, you may notice slight color variations, minor chips or visible aggregates. And the colors you see on the actual pavers may be slightly different from what you see in this catalog, where the pavers were photographed, in some cases, under studio lighting. But don't worry. Our sales representatives are trained to help you find the best color selections to suit your style. We're happy to show you color samples of actual stones. And, once your selection is complete, your installer will select stones from a variety of bundles and will lay them in a random manner to achieve a sophisticated and aesthetic visual effect.

Contact your Tremron Group representative for complete color selection availability.
